From the architects

Built just around the corner from the world famous Elstree Film Studios, Franklin Court seeks to be a statement building in Borehamwood town, with each apartment carefully designed to maximise the surrounding views.

Overlooking Shenley Road, Brook Road and an elegantly landscaped courtyard, Franklin Court was built using materials that accentuate the façade and reinforce the site's prominent position on the roundabout.

The tall corner element provides a strong architectural statement at this key junction, whilst the smaller elements complement the adjacent building heights. The clear head of the development is given by the glass setbacks on the top storeys on the side wings, reducing the perceived scale of the overall structure.

Altogether, Franklin Court has an eye-catching feel with a contemporary design that enhances the existing streetscape, a feature that made it one of the winners for Best high volume new housing developments at the LABC Building Excellence Awards in 2018. All is within reach

*Work or play, London is less than 30 minutes away

Borehamwood is a small town on the outskirts of London mainly known as one of the main centres of the UK film and television industries. Situated in Southern Hertfordshire, it has seen a rising development from the 1920s after the construction of the film production studios. Moreover, the expansion of London's transportation network and the presence of fast train connections to the city have had a major impact on the populations' growth.

From the 1920s Borehamwood has earned the nickname of the 'British Hollywood' thanks to the construction of numerous film studios. Although most of them have now been reduced in size or demolished, many films and shows are still filmed in the streets of the town. BBC Elstree Studios is no exception, still hosting nationwide famous shows as The Voice, Strictly Come Dancing and the popular soap EastEnders..

Today, Borehamwood is a residential suburb currently undergoing a substantial housing transformation. It offers several schools and large new shopping areas as Borehamwood Shopping Park. It is served by trains operated by First Capital Connect on the Thameslink route, and it is well connected with the A1 road and the M25 motorway.

Own your home with shared ownership

Getting the keys to your first new home could be easier than you think with this popular government-backed scheme. If you've found the Persona home that is right for you, take the first steps to owning it with shared ownership.

This part-rent, part-buy scheme is an opportunity for first time buyers and those that do not currently own a home to get on the property ladder. It's an ideal stepping stone for aspiring homeowners who are unable to buy a home outright and would rather buy what they can afford, when they can afford it. You start off buying a share in your new home on a leasehold basis and as time goes on, you can buy more shares when you can afford it; this process is called staircasing. The more shares you have in your home, the less rent you will pay until eventually you own your home outright and no longer pay rent to us.

You qualify for shared ownership if:

- You don't currently own a home or have an interest in a home and can't afford to buy one outright
- You have at least a 5% mortgage deposit available for the percentage of the home you would like to buy
- Your combined household income is less than £80,000 or less than £90,000 in London
- You can afford the monthly mortgage, rent and service charge payments

Our guide to buying with Shared ownership

With shared ownership you only buy between 25% and 75% of the value of your chosen home. You then pay a reduced rent on the remaining share of the home that you have not purchased.

Depending on your personal financial circumstances, your mortgage deposit could be as low as 5% of the value of the share that you purchase - a lot less than it would be if you were buying a home outright!

Step 1

Choose your property that qualifies for Shared Ownership

Step 2

Buy between 25% and 75% share of the property meaning less of a deposit up front

Step 3

Pay rent on the remaining share not owned by you
