Shared ownership explained at Cynefin

Shared ownership is another way to buy your home. You buy a percentage and pay rent on the rest.

Who is eligible for shared ownership?

Shared ownership is an option for lots of people.

In brief:

- Your household income is £80,000 a year or less
- Must be a first-time buyer
- Previously owned a home and can't afford to purchase a property outright
- Returning to the property market for example after a relationship breakdown
- If living in a current shared ownership property, then the property must be sold
- You must pass a financial assessment, proving financial capability to buy the minimum share value and monthly payments
- Must have a deposit of at least 5% of the share-value of the home.

Part mortgage/part rent, how does that work?

Shared ownership lets you buy a share of your home and pay rent on the rest. Under the new shared ownership model, you can usually buy between 10% and up to 75% of your chosen home. Your Sales Advisor will confirm what applies to your chosen property. For example, if the property costs £200,000 and you buy a 40% share (£80,000), you'll need a minimum 5% deposit on the share and a mortgage for the remainder, pay a reduced rent on the remaining 60%, typically calculated at 2.75% per year. You can buy more shares over time, known as 'staircasing', until you own 100%.

You'll enter into a 990-year shared ownership lease, this is the legal contract for the share you own. It sets out your monthly payments and obligations. The land remains owned by Your Housing Limited until you reach full ownership. To find out more visit: www.gov.uk/guidance/capital-funding-guide/1-shared-ownership

Repairs and maintenance

It is your responsibility to maintain your home and keep it in good condition. If you have bought your new home under the new shared ownership model, you will have a £500 annual repairs and maintenance allowance for the first 10 years. This helps cover the cost of small essential repairs.

Please refer to the terms and conditions within your lease.

Can I buy more shares?

Yes! You can buy additional shares in your home when it suits you financially, this is known as 'staircasing'. Each purchase is based on the current market value of your home.

If your home was bought under the new shared ownership model (AHP 2021-2026 and SAHP2026-2036), you can also buy a minimum 1% share each year during the first 15 years, using the simple valuation process set out in your lease. You can still buy larger shares at any time with the minimum purchase generally reduced from 10% to 5% under the new models. For full details on how staircasing works please refer to the Key Information document.

As you buy more shares, the rent you pay reduces. Once you reach 100% ownership, you'll no longer pay rent and your shared ownership lease will be dissolved, meaning you own your home outright. We've helped hundreds of aspiring homeowners purchase a new build home through shared ownership, and several have already staircased to 100%!
