You give a lot to this city.
It's time to get something back.

At Pocket, we talk a lot about city makers. They're the dynamic life force of London, contributing to our capital in so many ways.

They're the creatives, engineers, researchers, civil servants and everything in between. They enliven their local economies and neighbourhoods – so we don't want them being priced out.

They're you, and people just like you.

Pocket enables you to own a piece of the city you call home. This is your chance to buy a home in the community you love without compromise.

Say farewell to insecure renting.
Embrace the joys of buying.

Managing flatmates, unexpected rent changes, and limited personal space can be challenging. We understand your experiences with shared living in London and know you might have even thought about leaving the city.

But what if you didn't have to share your living space? Or settle for shared ownership? What if you had a home that was entirely your own, making a long-term investment in your future?

You could host dinner parties and buy forever furniture. You could paint the walls and spread out your things. If you achieved this mythical goal of homeownership in London, you could finally settle down in the city you love and invest in your future.

An urban retreat, nodding to its context

Inspired by the iconic interwar shopping parades of north-west London, Sheepcote Road HA1 is a development with gravitas. It was designed by RIBA award-winning Threefold Architects, who have combined contemporary aesthetics with an understanding of the local context. The building's distinctive presence seamlessly integrates with the high street and surroundings.

“The redevelopment of a car park has resulted in the creation of affordable new homes for first time buyers. The design works hard to optimise every corner of outdoor space, featuring sheltered gardens, shared balconies and rooftop terraces that offer breathtaking views. Along with the co-working lounge these communal areas encourage residents to come together and foster a sense of community. The façade, with its contrasting brick tones and relief, draws inspiration from the historic metro land architecture along the high street, giving the building a unique character and civic presence. This thoughtful integration with its historic context enhances the streetscape and public realm.”

Get baa-ck to nature

This site was mainly farmland up until the end of the 18th century. It has a secluded feel on the edge of Harrow's town centre, with Harrow-on-the-Hill Station just a 10-minute walk away. There are two blocks, aptly named after sheep breeds – crossing the upper bridges from Berrichon House to Ryeland House, you can pause to take in the views of the plentiful remaining green space and countryside.

A private oasis.
Shared social spaces

This tranquil, energy-efficient development has plenty of outdoor space, including several flats with private gardens. In total, 149 one-bedroom homes are spread out across two blocks, including 16 that are wheelchair adaptable.

An impressive double-height entrance welcomes you home, and the well-equipped residents' lobby has tables, pods, and a mezzanine space for working, socialising and collaborating. Head out to the communal gardens and allotments to be surrounded by green, or make your way up to the roof terraces to look out over miles of it.

Two for the price of one.
A home and a community.

Community isn't just a buzzword to us. Every Pocket development has a culture and spirit of its own – because a group of like-minded locals launched into the journey of homeownership together. So yes, you'll live in your own space, but you'll be surrounded by people just like you.

To get things moving, we host a welcome event for you to get to know your neighbours. We also help set up a Residents' Management Company once everyone settles into their new homes, letting residents decide how the building should be run. Then come the book clubs, games nights and tool swaps, it's up to you and your fellow residents what you create – meaning your home will most certainly extend beyond just four walls.

Every essential, plus a clean slate

Counting sheep feels better when you're in your very own bed in your very own home. We purposefully designed Pocket homes to be a blank canvas because we know how sweet it feels to create the space you've always dreamed of.

So go on, have friends over. Drill into those walls. Your home is 100% yours from day one, and it has everything you need – from storage space to built-in appliances – to live happily and comfortably.

We understand a city maker's lifestyle and have carefully designed our homes to match it.

That means an open-plan living, dining and kitchen space unified by a single floor finish. Full-height, extra-wide windows to allow light to flood in. Integrated lighting, functional appliances and built-in storage for all your bits and bobs.

And our 16 adaptable flats have bigger living spaces with the option of making these homes even more accessible. These homes are available to people who meet the eligibility criteria and those in need of accessible housing will be prioritised.

So, whether you're cooking in the fully-fitted kitchen, which has a slimline laminate worktop and built-in Beko appliances, or relaxing in your bedroom, which has space for a double-size bed, a pair of bedside tables and a wardrobe, you won't be making any compromises. Our innovative design team considers every nook and cranny, focusing on high-quality craftsmanship.

No frills.
Cheaper bills

Pocket homes are modern and sustainable with ample insulation, making energy bills much cheaper than in older conversion properties. Light floods your home through floor-to-ceiling, double or triple-glazed windows, and low-energy integrated LED downlights keep you lit up at night. Your kitchen appliances are thoughtfully designed to be resource-efficient, helping you save on energy.

We're not just thinking about your wallet but the planet too. Our wide plank flooring contains up to 44% recycled content and can be fully recycled post use. Our appliances have an average recyclability ratio of 90% with our ovens containing ghost fishing net thread waste in the plastic componentry. The timber kitchen furniture is sourced from responsibly managed forestry and our solid surface vanity top is hygienic, renewable and repairable.

Sleek design doesn't have to come at a cost; in fact, it saves you money.

An urban retreat.
A sustainable lifestyle

It's not just the homes that are energy efficient. Our buildings have everything residents need – but nothing they don't – to keep service charges down. That includes open walkways which do not require heating, and solar panels that help power the communal areas.

Sheepcote Road HA1 was built on an urban brownfield site, a move that helps protect London's precious Green Belt. It's also built using a durable concrete frame which significantly reduced wastage in construction and the development is purposefully car-free and well-connected to encourage sustainable travel. You can head to the secure cycle storage area to hop on your bike and explore all Harrow has to offer, from Grand Union Canal to the picturesque streets of Pinner Village.

Cityscape to green escape

Set between the city of London and its Green Belt, residents get to enjoy excellent transport links and access to the countryside. The Metropolitan Line can whisk you to Baker Street in just 20 minutes, and Chiltern Railways connects you to destinations like Aylesbury, High Wycombe, and Birmingham. Heathrow Airport is just 12 miles away.

Picnics in Harrow Recreation Ground, nature walks in Bentley Priory Nature Reserve, and tennis in Canons Park – you have access to well-maintained natural environments when a slower pace is what you need.

- You will need to arrange a RICS valuation, which will set the maximum price at which you can re-sell. This will be a market valuation which takes into consideration the resale restrictions. Pocket will need to approve the RICS valuation prior to marketing.
- For the first month of marketing your home, you'll need to try and sell to someone who: lives or works in the Borough of Harrow, is not currently a homeowner and whose household income is below the initial salary cap (currently £66k). If you haven't found a buyer after a month, then the income cap will increase to the Mayor's salary cap for affordable housing (currently £90k) for a further month. If you haven't found someone after these two months, then the location criteria widens to all London boroughs for a further month, and if you haven't found a buyer after these three months then for a further three months, the location criteria widens to all of the UK. If after six months of marketing you haven't found an eligible buyer, you can sell to anyone, regardless of eligibility.
- Pocket will need to approve your buyer and certify that the criteria have been adhered to before exchange of contracts.

Subletting and Annual Verification Process

What happens if you can't live in your Pocket home for a while:

- Pocket homes are designed to be lived in by the eligible people who purchase them, but we understand that occasionally – for reasons outside of your control – a Pocket homeowner might need to sub-let their home.
- You can seek permission to sublet your home once you have owned it for a year and in extenuating circumstances. You'll need to have a RICS valuation and then sublet your Pocket home for 80% of the local market rent.
- You'll need to rent to someone who: is not currently a homeowner and whose income is below the Mayor's salary cap for affordable housing (currently £90k).
- A Pocket home cannot be sub-let for any longer than one year at a time. Pocket will certify your subletting.
- Once a year, we'll ask you to complete an Annual Verification Process to show that you are still living in your Pocket home we'll just ask you to upload proof of residency online.
