Buy buy Generation Rent

Have you thought about saying goodbye to renting and hello to owning your own home in Waltham Forest? Rent can take up to a third of a person's income, yet it's not a long-term investment.

Owning your home gives you stability that renting in London doesn't offer. Plus, you have a whole fridge not a shelf, and you can wave goodbye to morning queues for the bathroom. A Pocket home is your own private space, to keep as long as you like.

You're making this city... get something back

You're one of the many, many people who make London tick. You've chosen this great city as the place to build your career, meet friends and partners and experience a vibrant urban lifestyle. You're a 'city maker', a member of the dynamic force powering the Capital's vitality and creativity.

Day by day, week by week, you contribute to our city in so many ways. Not just through your regular work, but also by supporting local shops, bars, venues and restaurants. You energise the local economy and enliven your neighbourhood.

Quite possibly, you'd like to put down roots, to own a stake in your community. Your own home. You give a lot to this city and it's time you got something back. Which is where we come in.

What are the neighbours like?
Actually, they're just like you

There's a sense of togetherness within Pocket developments, encouraged by the common experiences of our residents. They're all owner-occupiers, and they generally share similar interests and aspirations.

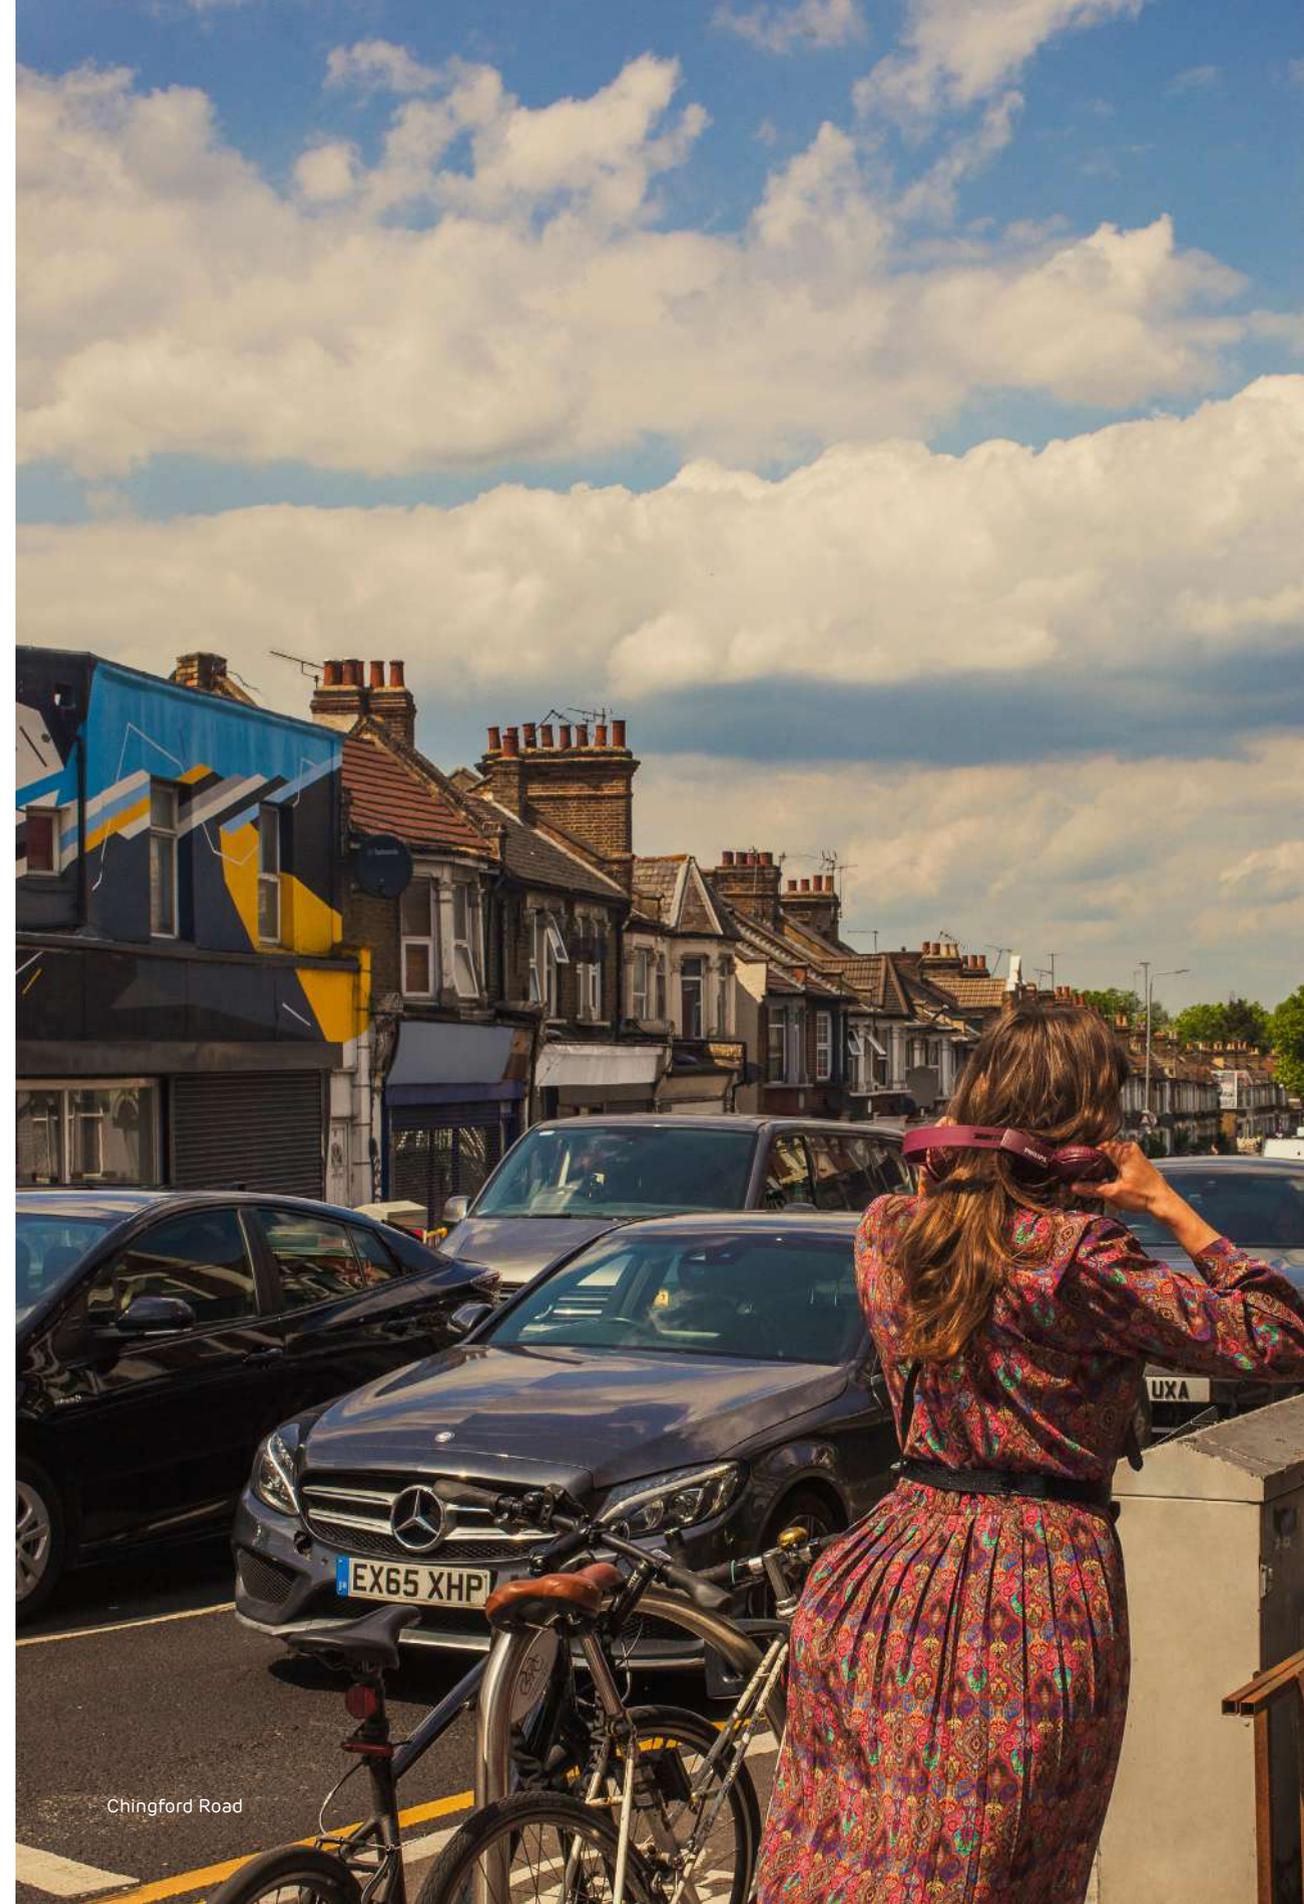

The design of our developments also fosters a reassuring sense of community spirit. At Forest Road E17, residents can meet for a coffee or weekend drinks on the landscaped rooftop gardens, where shared allotment beds are on hand to grow fruit and veg, or use the space for morning sun salutations. The courtyard garden at ground level offers another opportunity to get together.

Our efforts to create a sense of community begin before we hand over the keys, when we host a welcome event for residents so they can get to know each other.

Later, when everyone's settled in, we help them set up a Residents' Management Company to decide how the building should be run. Actually, 'building' is the wrong word. It's a community.

Many developers invest in property. We invest in communities.

You only get one chance to be a first time buyer.
So get it right

Buying a one-bedroom Pocket home at Forest Road E17 could be an extremely smart move. Not only will you obtain a discount of 20%, you'll also own 100% of your home from the day you move in.

We also understand that the process of buying your first home can seem quite complex and daunting, so we've developed a step-by-step system to steer you through the various stages, from choosing your apartment to picking up the keys to your own front door. You're in good hands: Pocket Living has been helping 'city makers' become homeowners in London since 2005.

Visit our website to find out more and view videos featuring Pocket homeowners, as they explain how they climbed onto the housing ladder and stepped into their first home.

Inspired by the past.
Designed for the future

"The decorative details of our design for Forest Road are inspired by the curved bay windows of the William Morris Gallery, creating a scalloped ribbon that articulates the roofline. We also imagine this building as a sibling with similar features to our previous project for Pocket with its established community at nearby Gainsford Road, referencing Walthamstow's rich history of providing for local workers through its distinctive Warner housing."

Andrew Tam, Gort Scott
Architect for Forest Road

Opposite the Grade II* listed William Morris Gallery, the 90 one-bedroom apartments occupy a striking building inspired by its heritage location. Echoing the curved bay windows of the gallery, the roof level parapets are curved and the window lintels are gently concave. The mix of warm white, grey, plum, pink and red tones mirror the diverse colours of surrounding buildings. On the street corners, blank walls are earmarked for murals by a local artist.

The development rises to three, four and five storeys to integrate with nearby buildings and its distinctive façade features brick, precast concrete, metalwork and hand-glazed tiles. At ground level, a strip of planting surrounds the building, with a good-sized corner garden incorporating a semi-mature tulip tree.

Some homes have a terrace, the corner apartments have dual-aspect views and eight are wheelchair adaptable. To blend with surrounding terraced houses, five ground floor apartments have bay windows and gated front gardens. All the homes are cleverly designed to use interior space efficiently.

Existing strawberry trees are being replanted in the courtyard, where seating and shared allotment planters create a sense of community. Roof terraces on the third and fourth floors have communal seating and planters featuring species inspired by William Morris designs.

The privacy of your own home.
The buzz of a community

Owners of Pocket homes often develop a close bond with their fellow residents. We encourage this togetherness by creating areas where neighbours can exercise, meet and get to know each other.

At Forest Road E17, the shared spaces include two roof terraces with views of Lloyd Park and a south-facing communal courtyard where residents can meet and share experiences.

A dramatic entrance, with walls of red handmade ceramic tiles, leads to a spacious lobby connecting the street to the courtyard. Light and airy, the lobby is a welcoming environment that encourages residents to linger and interact whilst collecting their post, helping to create a strong community.

Interior Overview

Every essential, plus a blank canvas

With a focus on high-quality craftsmanship, the Pocket apartment interiors are designed to match modern city makers' lifestyles. Think of the open-plan living space as a blank canvas, a chance to impose your personality. We've seen homes painted green, blue, pink and orange, wallpaper of all styles, chandeliers, Moroccan rugs and Spanish tiling. We've noted scarlet velvet sofas, art that defies description and interiors with more plants than furniture. This is your chance to make your home yours.

As a basis, each home has integrated lighting, a built-in storage cupboard, a living, dining and kitchen space with a modern worktop, granite composite sink, an oven and hob, an extractor fan and a fridge with a freezer compartment. The bedroom has space for a double bed, a pair of bedside cabinets and a wardrobe. The sleek wet room lined with large format tiles has a walk-in shower. The windows are maximised to let light flood in, and there's a single floor finish to unify the space.

An urban retreat. A sustainable lifestyle

Like all Pocket Living apartments, the homes at Forest Road E17 are designed to be eco-friendly. Well-insulated to retain heat, they minimise day-to-day energy costs. Solar panels maximise the power of the sun, aided by floor-to-ceiling windows that allow daylight to flood in. To top it off, air source heat pumps provide renewable heating and hot water.

To encourage sustainable travel, the development is car-free apart from the provision of two wheelchair accessible parking spaces. Each apartment has a covered bike storage space, and there are racks for visitors' bikes. Importantly, residents are well served by public transport, with bus stops and Walthamstow Central Underground and Overground stations just a short walk away.

Adding to the development's green credentials, the homes are built on an urban brownfield site following the removal of a redundant building, a move that helps to protect London's Green Belt.

Walthamstow Wetlands

Visitor Centre and Engine House Café

Walthamstow. 'London's hipster enclave'

Named 'Britain's coolest neighbourhood' by The Daily Telegraph, Walthamstow is 'on trend' right now. As Time Out magazine reports: 'There's loads to do, tons of nice people call it home and it's an actual creative hub, a place where stuff gets made'. It's easy to see why the area is attracting rave reviews. Where else in London can residents visit a mile-long brewery trail, a celebration of neon lighting, the longest open-air market in Europe, a café with a climbing wall and a pub offering life-drawing classes?

Walthamstow Village, centred around Orford Road, is a cluster of quirky independent shops and destination restaurants such as the famed Eat17. Along Blackhorse Lane, lovers of craft beer can stop off at a strip of micro-breweries or dip into an urban winery. More traditional pubs, such as The Village and The Nags Head, offer superior pub grub. Across Walthamstow, residents can also savour an eclectic range of culinary fare, from Afghan dishes to organic sourdough pizza.

Gods Own Junkyard

Garden at William Morris Gallery

Culture thrives. Nature blossoms

It's no surprise that Waltham Forest was chosen as the capital's first London Borough of Culture a few years ago. Varied venues stage live shows, start-up retailers display innovative interiors and galleries exhibit art in all its forms. Just across the road from the Pocket Living homes, the Georgian house once occupied by design pioneer and social activist William Morris celebrates his revolutionary life as a leader of the British Arts & Crafts movement. And on bustling Hoe Street, the old Granada Theatre is about to reopen as an E17 outpost of the acclaimed Soho Theatre.

Nature lives side by side with culture. Walthamstow Wetlands is a massive nature reserve where rare waterfowl and birds of prey can be spotted among the reservoirs. The old Engine House, now a visitor centre and café, features a tower to attract nesting swifts and roosting bats. Among other green spaces across the borough, Lloyd Park, a few minutes' walk from Forest Road, has an outdoor gym, skate park and petanque court.

Transport links

One of the glories of Walthamstow living is rapid access to central London via the Victoria Line. Walthamstow Central is just a 12-minute stroll, or an even quicker bus ride, from the Pocket Living development. The tube will take residents to the eclectic shops and restaurants of Islington's Upper Street in a mere 11 minutes and to the heart of the West End in just 18 minutes. Forest Road E17 is also well served by local bus routes, with three bus stops less than five minutes away. No tube or bus journey is required to visit an expanse of greenery, of course, as Lloyd Park is just across the road.

How to book a viewing

Set up a My Pocket account
Visit pocketliving.com and click Register to create your My Pocket account.

Activate
Activate your account via the link in the email we'll send you. If it doesn't arrive, check your junk folder.

Eligibility check
To apply for a one-bedroom home at Forest Road E17, you can live or work in any London Borough as long as you don't currently own a home and earn less than £90,000 a year.

Affordability check
Complete an online affordability assessment with Censeo Financial, an Independent Financial Adviser, to check you can afford a home at Forest Road E17. Link to Censeo Financial

Once you've passed your affordability assessment, you'll be able to book a viewing at our show home via My Pocket. During the viewing, a member of the Pocket team will be on hand to answer your questions.

How to buy

If you like what you see at your viewing, visit our website, go to My Pocket and submit an Expression of Interest. You can select up to ten homes.

If we're able to offer you a Pocket home, we'll upload an offer letter into your My Pocket account. This will set out the buying process and ask you to upload various documents into your My Pocket account, pay a reservation fee, meet a mortgage adviser such as Censeo Financial and choose a solicitor. Don't worry, we'll recommend reliable people.

Once we've checked your documents, we'll put a reservation form into your My Pocket account. Sign this form and upload it into your account.

You'll now need to instruct your solicitor and we'll brief Pocket's solicitor to start work on your purchase.

With the help of your mortgage adviser, submit your full mortgage application.

Follow the process as advised by your solicitor and exchange contracts at this stage. You're now legally bound to purchase the apartment and we're legally bound to sell it to you.

When your apartment is ready and your solicitor has completed your purchase, pick up your keys, move in and celebrate being a homeowner in the borough you love.

Resales

When the time comes to move on from your Pocket home:

- You can sell your Pocket home at any stage 12 months after completion.
- You'll need to arrange a RICS valuation, which will set the maximum price at which we can resell. This market valuation will take into consideration the resale restrictions. Pocket will need to approve the RICS valuation prior to marketing.
- For the first three months of marketing your home you'll need to sell to somebody who: lives or works within the Borough of Waltham Forest, is not currently a homeowner, and whose household income is below £90,000.
- If you haven't found a buyer after three months, then the location criteria widens to people who live or work in any London borough, is not currently a homeowner, and whose household income is below £90,000.
- If after six months you haven't found an eligible buyer, you can sell your Pocket home to anyone, regardless of eligibility.
- Pocket will need to approve your buyer and to certify that the criteria have been adhered to and before exchanging contracts.

Subletting

What happens if you really can't live in your Pocket home for a while:

- Pocket homes are designed to be lived in by the eligible people who purchase them, but we understand that occasionally – for reasons outside of your control – a Pocket homeowner might need to sublet their home.
- You can seek permission to sublet in extenuating circumstances and once you have owned your home for 12 months. You'll need to have a RICS valuation and then sublet your Pocket home for 80% of the local market rent.
- You'll need to rent to someone who: is not currently a homeowner and whose income is below £90,000.
- A Pocket home cannot be sublet for any longer than one year at a time. Pocket will certify your subletting.
